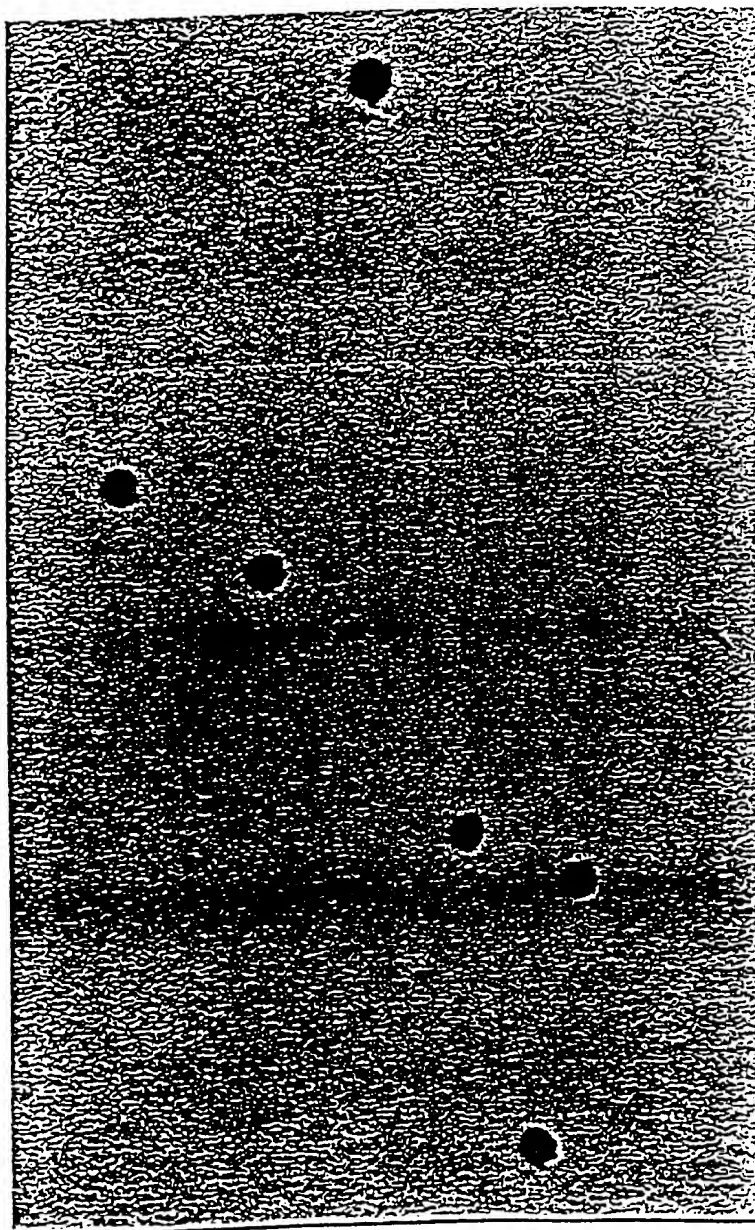

Figure 7A

A black and white photograph of a heavily textured surface, likely leather or a similar material. The texture is characterized by a dense, irregular pattern of small ridges and valleys. Scattered across the surface are several small, dark, irregular holes or indentations. These features are most prominent in the upper half of the image, with a cluster of three near the top center and another group of two towards the middle right. There are also a few smaller, less distinct marks towards the bottom left. The overall appearance is one of wear or damage to the material.
